Hi, my name is Kimberly. I am a September libra, my favorite colors are blue and purple. I love to cook, sleep, watch crime mysteries and hang out with my friends. I am a very shy person, and it does take me a while to get comfortable with people. In high school English was my favorite subject, it's always been since I was little. Some experience I have with language arts throughout high school were learning about different types of literacies, how the author used them to connect or grab the reader's attention and learning how to write with good grammar and punctuation. It did get a little hard throughout the years for me especially in my senior year. It was more of expressing ourselves and writing with big words which wasn't very easy for me. I felt like I wasn't really good at writing meaning that I felt like when I would write something I wouldn't know how to make it more interesting. Throughout the years while learning more about language arts I feel like I have gotten better at writing just bit with showing detail, being more specific about things and just learning how fix my writing and understanding it.
